

Notice Of Mental Health Client's Rights

1. You have the right to get information about member rights and responsibilities, and clinical guidelines.
2. You have the right to be treated with respect and to have your privacy and dignity protected regardless of race, national origin, gender, age, sexual orientation, or religious affiliation.
3. You have the right to have the confidentiality of all communication regarding your mental health and care maintained by Jill Vetstein LICSW, to the extent required by law.
4. You have the right to participate with Jill Vetstein LICSW in treatment planning and decision making about your care and to include family members when you wish. You have the right to discuss all available care and treatment options regardless of cost or benefit coverage.
5. You have the right to give or refuse consent for treatment and/or communication of treatment information to your primary care doctor and/or other mental health and substance abuse providers.
6. You have the right to get information from your treatment record with signed consent.
7. You have the right to report a complaint or concern (or have someone do so on your behalf) verbally or in writing, about the care you have received.
8. You have the right upon request to receive a copy of an itemized bill or other statement of charges. You have a right to a Super Bill where you can submit to your Insurance Plan if you have out of network benefits.